Second Edition 2019

Acknowledgment is made of the important work done in the first edition of these Big Books. But in order to meet the President's target that every ten-year-old will read for meaning (State of the Nation Address, 20 June 2019), additional development was required.

First edition illustrations have been used, and new stories and illustrations developed, to craft additional complex stories to explicitly develop critical comprehension skills among young learners.
