

Dear Parent/Guardian

Energy exists around us in various forms and types. In fact the Earth is nothing without energy

One such type of energy we experience on a day to day basis is sound energy. Sound enables us to hear and communicate with one another and our environment.

For this week learners are required to;

- Identify sources of sound in and around the home
- Construct a model to show how sound travels from one point to another.
- For this model learners will need

2 Tins, a string

- Connect the two tins with the string.

Have one person on either end of the string and take turns to talk and listen

- Learners said note down what they observe.

Let us remember the words of Benjamin Franklin, “ Teach me, I will forget. Tell me, I will remember. me, Involve me I will learn”.

Thank you. Have a pleasant week.

Justine
